From Last meeting

Host Martin welcomed members and guests to the meeting, including next week's speaker Wendy, from Capetown where the time was 3 am, as it will be next week

QUOTE:

Dennis Nielson's quotes

1. "May you live in interesting times" was apparently meant to be a curse and contrary to popular belief was not, apparently, attributed to Confucius.
2. "Be careful what you wish for" One complete version of the quote from Colin Cunningham is "Be careful what you wish for because you will get it. Be even more careful what you work for as you will get it even more quickly"

Guest Speakers

Barry Lane introduced Irene and Debbie who took on the challenge of Tour Aotearoa and cycled from Cape Reinga to Bluff in 2017.

To celebrate a 60th birthday they kitted up to be able to carry all belongings required, camping gear, clothing and some food and set off to complete the task within a month which entailed travelled an average of 100km a day.

Personally, I could think of alternative methods for birthday celebrations.

They used mountain bikes and did quite a bit of pre-trip training although they were not novices to cycling.

They appeared to have had the motto of See, Do and Eat for the trip which apart from a minor injury they survived as an enjoyable and informative adventure.

Bryce Dunn thanked Irene and Deborah

“If people don’t know what you are doing, they don’t know what you are doing wrong”
Memo for Minister of Health?

Minister’s Language: “We have decided to be more flexible in our application of this principle” means “We are dropping this policy, but we don’t want to admit it publicly”

Sir Humphrey Appleby K.C.B – Secretary of the Cabinet

WORD OF THE DAY:

Peregrinate: What does it mean? Preferably without looking it up!

I just received a photograph of Donald Trump with a rounded face rather like a Korean he knows with the caption:

“I no dead!
I go beauty salon
Take long time”

May is Youth Services Month
