Last Meeting – 30 September

Welcome – Denis Marriner

Denis welcomed us to Te Puia and introduced Jess Thorne (GM Finance & Administration – deputising for Tim Cossar)

Jess led us through to the new dining area and invited us to sample the buffet lunch, which included several Traditional additions to the standard fare; eg Hangi pumpkin. The meal also included a selection of sweets for dessert.

Following lunch, we assembled for a photo in front of Pohutu and then Jess took us on a tour of the workshops. The first was a bronze casting section followed by the carving section. Then through to the display of work produced from the students with large price tags on some of them! We moved onto the weaving section where we had a display of preparing flax for processing further to produce a skirt, with a description of the dying process. Coming back through the well-stocked shop to where we started from. An excellent tour and thanks to Te Puia and Denis for arranging it.

Denis Thanked Jess for her presentation and tour

Political Pearls:

“Ministers have an enviable intellectual suppleness and moral manoeuvrability. TRANSLATION: You can’t trust them further than you can throw them”

“Civil Servants need great flexibility. They have to be constantly prepared to change horses’ mid-stream, as politicians change what they are pleased to call their minds”
